

Tom Cawley's Eagle Project

Over the past two months, Tom has been working through his eagle project. He, the troop, family, and friends constructed nine bird houses and five bird feeders for the Delaware Valley Veterans' Home.

The first stage of the project was a workshop in early April at the veterans' home, at which scouts and adults sat down with the around thirty veterans to sand and glue the bird houses.

For painting, Tom held two work sessions during Thursday scout meetings, in addition to a morning at his house. Many people were involved, and the work moved along steadily. The painting phase of the project was the most time-consuming, as numerous coats were applied to the bird houses.

The delivery to the veterans' home was held in early May and took a few hours. The residents were very happy to see the constructed work installed into the grounds surrounding the building.

Tom would like to thank everyone that participated, and he says that the project was a “great success”.
